Dear Sirs,

Atlantis-Institut

The Atlantis Institute of the wellknown Böttcherstrasse in Bremen is to be reopened in 1931. The Atlantis Institute holds the most valuable pre-historic collection in Germany. The aim of the Institute and Museum is to prove the origin of the northern race which, however, is only possible by means of showing the excavation finds from Asia Minor, Asia, Africa and America in relation to the Northern finds.

Herman Wirth

Professor Herman Wirth of Marburg, who has been working on the Atlantis problem, as also Mr. Hans Müller-Brauel known for his pre-historic research work have for many years been attempting to retrace the combined centre of both European and American civilisation.

In view of the fact that the most interesting finds made by your Mr. <sup>hans Henning van der Osten</sup> Hans Henning von der Osten form both a proof and a link in the interesting results of our research work, we would be very thankful to you if you would kindly consent to let us have some of the pieces out of this collection.

In addressing these lines to you on behalf of the supervision of the Böttcherstrasse and the Archaeological Institute, believe me, dear Sirs,

Yours very truly

LUDWIG ROSELIUS
